

Anyway, Where Was I?

Geoff Hill's Alternative A-Z of the World

Geoff Hill

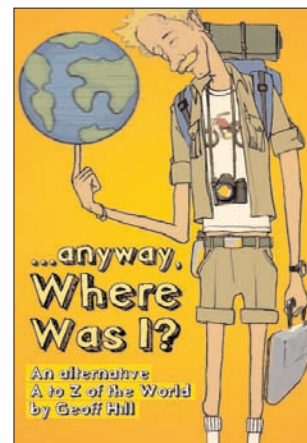

PRaise FOR GEOFF HILL'S TRAVEL WRITING

'A brilliant read, a book I simply couldn't put down. You become part of the adventure and all its ups and downs, and the book is bloody funny. It's like a cross between Ted Simon and Flann O'Brien – a cracker!'

HAIRY BIKER DAVE MYERS

'You see, for me, travel is like love. When I go away for a few days, every six weeks or so, it gives me that feeling you get when you fall in love: when you wake every morning with a song in your heart, fling back the shutters and go walking through the rain-washed streets with a spring in your step.'

Equipped with notebook, pen, boundless enthusiasm and a knack of meeting the most interesting local characters, Geoff Hill travels the world in this collection of the very best of his travel writing. With his taste for the absurd – yodelling, llama trekking and dormouse hunting – and his sense of adventure – Saharan charity treks fuelled by Tayto crisps, micro-light trips to the Shetlands and wolf-hunting in Sweden – this is no ordinary travel guide. Hold on tight and brace yourself for an unforgettable trip – from Azerbaijan to Zagreb, via China, Donegal, Romania, Tunisia and everywhere in between.

KEY SELLING POINTS

- New title from best-selling author of Way To Go and The Road to Gobblers Knob
 - Brilliantly written, and hilariously funny
 - Award winning author with large fan base
 - Ideal Christmas gift
- Author is high profile media insider

GEOFF HILL is the features editor of the News Letter in Belfast, and the author of Way to Go: Two of the World's Great Motorcycle Journeys (Blackstaff Press, 2005) and The Road To Gobblers Knob: From Chile to Alaska on a Motorbike (Blackstaff Press, 2007). He has either won or been shortlisted for a UK Travel Writer of the Year award nine times. He is also a former Irish Travel Writer of the Year and a former Mexican Government European Travel Writer of the Year, although he's still trying to work out exactly what that means. He regularly writes about travel for the Daily Telegraph and the Independent on Sunday.

PRICE
£9.99
ISBN
978-0-85640-831-1
PUBLICATION DATE
September 2008
BINDING
Paperback
EXTENT
320 pp
PAGE SIZE
216 x 138 mm
CLASSIFICATION
Travel